COLLEGE VOTES OUT ALL HAZING

Students in Mass Meeting Decide almost Unanimously to Do away with Every Form of Hazing. Objections from Alumni

Hazing at Gettysburg College was voted out for all time at a specially called mass meeting of the student body on Tuesday afternoon. No more will the homesick Freshmen be taken from their comfortable beds at two o'clock in the morning by a body of hooded and gowned Sophomores to travel for miles over fields and avenues, doing stunts to amuse the upper classmen. No longer will there be feuds of molasses and feathers. Never again will the chill of a cold shower be forced upon a first year man on some particularly cold night.

All these pranks and many others passed into the history of the local institution by the action taken on Tuesday and the youngsters will not be able to write home any more interesting accounts of their own experiences and those of their classmates. Hazing has been looked upon officially and by the student body with a feeling of disfavor and from now on it will be absolutely prohibited.

That such action was forthcoming was due to vigorous and widespread objection voiced by alumni and supporters of the college who heard word and exaggerated tales of "doings" here during the first month of school, saw pictures sent home by the unfortunate and read in newspapers of telling of the terrible ordeals to which Gettysburg Freshmen were put. To some of these alumni it was a question whether they would continue their financial support, to others whether they should send their sons to a college where they would be subject to such brutal sport. Efforts to convince them that the rumors were too highly colored were unavailing and, as a matter of self preservation, the authorities felt that the custom must be abolished.

Accordingly a meeting of the entire student body was announced and the matter laid before them. President Granville and other members of the faculty told of the great harm that was being done to the cause of the institution and then asked the students whether they would not, of their own accord, vote down hazing of every character and forbid its practice. Now, certain forms of this sport had become very dear to the boys of Gettysburg and they were not keen to see this fun pass by and become merely a story to tell to posterity. The first two weeks in each and every college year were given over to nightly performances by the new men and, after that, any Freshman who overstepped the bounds of modesty and humility was consigned to the care of a mysterious body known as the "Sophomore Band", the identity of whose members was not revealed until the following year. This method was felt to be a good thing for the student body in general and a fine way of curbing unruly spirits.

And so the boys thought for some time over the matter and were reluctant to vote away their own fun but, when a call came for an actual expression of opinion, all but a few decided to place the good of the college before their own personal desires and a rising vote resulted in an almost unanimous decision to abolish the custom. The authorities were highly gratified with the result, not only for the effect it will have in promoting the interests of the school but because it is regarded as a high testimonial to the student body who were willing to make this sacrifice for the sake of the college.

The following were present every day during the second month at McCleary's school, Freedom Township, Catherine Rohrbaugh, Grace Small, Esther Rohrbaugh, Dorothea Fair, May Berkhiser, Lida Rohrbaugh, Mary Wolf, Helen Wolf, Ethel Byers, Hazel Byers, Howard Small and Nevin Hankey. LAW TO AFFECT LOCAL STORES

New Measure Comes into Effect on Saturday which will Conflict with Present Saturday Hours of Employment.

Many Gettysburg stores will be affected by Pennsylvania's new female employment law which will become operative next Saturday, November 1. The new law makes some radical changes in hours and provides for mid-day and rest periods.

The young ladies and women who work in local stores will all come under the provisions of the new law some of the requirements of which are the following:

No female may be employed more than six days of fifty-four hours in any one week, or more than ten hours in any one day, except in fruit and vegetable canneries and as nurse in hospitals with these exceptions:

In case of legal holidays, these hours may be exceeded during three of the five remaining days of the same week by not more than two hours over time in any one day, provided the weekly total of 54 is not exceeded; overtime may be allowed for time lost by stoppage of machinery for more than 30 minutes because of alteration, accident or repair, but may not exceed two hours in any one day.

No female under 21 may be employed between 9 p. m. and 6 a. m. except telephone operators over 18 and no females may be employed in any manufacturing establishment between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m. except as managers, superintendents, clerks and stenographers.

No female shall be allowed less than 45 minutes for the mid-day meal except that if a female is employed less than eight hours a day this period may be reduced to thirty minutes. No female may be required to work more than six hours continuously without an interval of forty five minutes of rest.

The effect of the law in Gettysburg will be felt, principally with regard to the hours of clerks on Saturday. Allowing the customary hours for dinner and supper, the clerks who come on at 7:30 in the morning would have to cease work at that hour in the evening, while those who start at eight in the morning would be required to stop work at eight o'clock at night. Most of Gettysburg's stores, employing women, now close at nine o'clock Saturday night. Some readjustment in schedules will likely be found necessary.

SIAMESE TWINS

Two Squabs Joined together. Face in Opposite Directions.

Paul Bunty, of Mt. Rock, has a most unique freak—a pair of squabs that are grown together. The pigeons are fully developed in every way other than that they are connected directly under the wings. The head of one is pointed in one direction while the other is in the opposite way. They have four legs and four perfect wings. Bunty will preserve them in alcohol should they die.

PREPARING FOR RABBIT SEASON

Hunters Getting out their Guns, but where they shall Go in Quest of Game is the Question that Confronts them.

With the opening of the rabbit and quail hunting season in sight—Saturday, Nov. 1—many local hunters are getting out and cleaning their firearms and laying in a supply of ammunition in anticipation of a big haul on the first day of slaughter, but where are they going in quest of game is the question.

A number of local veteran hunters have been looking over the ground and are unanimous in their opinion that the new license act will hit the gunners hard because it has caused the farmers throughout the county to protect their lands from outside invasion and it will be very difficult for them to find a place where they can hunt without fear of arrest.

One hunter in expressing his opinion, says that it seems as though the mountain and timberlands in the isolated sections would be the only safe place for a licensed hunter to strike for, unless he can make arrangements with land owners. The farmers say they cannot be blamed for their action because many hunters in years past shot chickens, broke down fences and committed other depredations.

Reports from all sections of the county say that the number of trespass signs has increased greatly, there being few farms on which the notices are not posted. A big list of warnings will be found in this paper. There are exceptions, some farmers being found who are glad to get rid of the rabbits and who give free rein to hunters who are careful of property.

Some land owners have put up the signs more to protect quail than anything else. This game bird has grown very scarce in many sections of the county and in order to preserve them many farmers will not take advantage of their right to shoot the bird, but will give their best efforts in protecting them from the hunters.

From all reports the puzzling problem for the hunter to solve will be the initial question, "Where will I go today?" Not only is the gunner prohibited from shooting on a farm on which signs are erected, but he is not permitted to cross that farm to reach another, where he might have the privilege of hunting game.

LINCOLN WAY DEVELOPMENTS

Interest in the West is Keen. One Suggestion Calling it the Linking Way. Volunteers Mark the Route of the Highway.

J. E. Pennybacker, Secretary of the National Good Roads Congress, declares that the Lincoln Highway should be called the Linking Highway. Mr. Pennybacker was an exceedingly busy man during the American Road Congress in Detroit but he found time to give favorable consideration to the work of The Lincoln Highway Association during his stay in the city.

"It's the Linking Highway" said Mr. Pennybacker, "because it links thirteen states together; thirteen states that carry you across from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and afford the farmer, the doctor, the merchant, the business-man, and the tourist exceptional facilities to reach their neighbors and their friends in other states along the route of the Lincoln Highway."

At a meeting of the good roads people at Fort Collins, Colorado, it was decided to mark immediately the route of the Lincoln Highway in that state between Denver and Cheyenne. Volunteers offered their services, paint and brushes were secured and with the citizens of Loveland, Longmont, Berthoud and other points joining, the route has been placed on the map for all time.

Efforts were made in Colorado and at other points to change the route of the highway when the route was selected between Denver and Cheyenne. The maps published by the association showed the route as designated by Governor Ammons and the State Highway commission. It was declared that the route as laid out would hold if it was marked and the call for volunteers was immediately issued.

One of the contributions just received at the national offices of the Lincoln Highway Association is that of A. H. Stanley, managing director of the London General Omnibus Co., Ltd., of London, Eng. The contribution is interesting because Mr. Stanley, while now of London, was a former resident of Detroit and a veteran of the Spanish-American war, having served on the U. S. S. "Yosemite" which was manned by the Michigan naval militia.

Governor Joseph M. Carey, has issued a proclamation to the people of Wyoming, calling upon them to observe the night of Friday, Oct. 31, as a fitting time to dedicate the route of the Lincoln Highway through the state.

TO TEACH DRAWING

State will Have a Series of Conferences with the Teachers.

Pupils in the schools of Pennsylvania are to be given the benefit of all the expert advice possible in drawing and a plan has just been announced at the Department of Public Instruction whereby the expert assistants of Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, the state superintendent, in drawing will meet supervisors and drawing teachers in various districts just established in the state. This is the first time that a branch of instruction has been put on this basis.

Miss Rose M. Fetterolf, the expert in drawing, has worked out the plan for the purpose of strengthening the work and the districts and conferences are announced. On next Saturday there will be held at Harrisburg the conference for this district which includes the following counties: Dauphin, Lebanon, Perry, Cumberland, Adams, Franklin, Fulton, Mifflin and Juniata.

ORGANIZED LEAGUE

U. S. WILL NOT GIVE UP DIAZ

Will Take Mexican Refugees to Port of Choice.

FLEDTO GUNBOATATVERACRUZ

Accompanied by Three Others, Diaz Seeks Protection of Americans, Fearing For Their Lives.

Washington, Oct. 29.—General Felix Diaz and two Mexican companions and an American newspaper correspondent named Williams are now on board the United States gunboat Wheeling in the harbor of Vera Cruz, having taken refuge there under the plea that their lives are in danger.

This was reported to the state department by Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the battleships in Mexican waters. The admiral said that he would hold Diaz and his party until instructed by Washington what disposition to make of them.

At the state department it was learned that no decision has yet been reached regarding the refugees. Secretary Bryan cabled to Admiral Fletcher requesting him to ask Diaz and his Mexican companions what they wish to do. A decision as to their disposition will be reached after Diaz has expressed his desires in the matter.

If Diaz states that he wishes to get out of Mexico, undoubtedly the United States will aid him to do so. The most satisfactory procedure, as far as this government is concerned, would be for him to express such a desire, and then Admiral Fletcher could place him upon the next steamship leaving Vera Cruz for the United States or Cuba.

In regard to Williams, the state department is inclined to believe that there is no good reason why he should not remain in Vera Cruz, provided he does not wish to leave Mexico altogether.

The Mexican situation has now reached a point where the United States is bound to present to European governments some practical and concrete plan for bringing about the restoration of order in the southern republic. That is the unavoidable interpretation put upon developments.

Under pressure from European powers, President Wilson has pledged the United States government to make a definite statement of policy in regard to Mexico. At the request of the United States three of these powers have agreed to defer action in Mexico until they have listened to what President Wilson has to say.

In the meantime this government is confronted with the request from France that protection be afforded to the lives and property of French subjects at a point forty miles inland from the west coast of Mexico. The United States has replied by sending a cruiser, but the question is likely to be raised now whether or not this government will land marines.

DIAZ'S FLIGHT DRAMATIC

Applies to U. S. Consul at Vera Cruz For Protection.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Oct. 29.—General Felix Diaz, who was one of the presidential candidates in Sunday's election, applied to the American consulate for protection and was taken on board the United States gunboat Wheeling.

Jose Sandoval and Cecilio Ocon, Mexicans, and Alexander Williams, an American newspaper correspondent, who had made similar application to the consulate, were taken on board the gunboat with General Diaz.

L. Blum, an American horseman, who had accompanied the Diaz party from Havana to Vera Cruz, was arrested.

Diaz's flight, accompanied by Ocon and Sandoval, was dramatic in the extreme and caused a great sensation when it became known, the three men taking the risk of an excursion over the roof of the German hotel adjoining the American consulate, despite the fact that the authorities had stationed armed guards on the lookout on the roof for just such a break.

When they arrived inside the room they asked that the consul, William W. Canada, be called. Apparently suffering from great excitement, they assured him that their lives were in imminent danger. They declared they had knowledge that orders for their arrest had been issued and they begged for his protection.

In reply Canada pointed to the water front some 200 yards distant. "There's a launch there," he said. "You'd better make a run for it."

The fugitives hesitated to make the venture, as the street in front of the American consulate was patrolled by detectives.

When they finally left the consulate the detectives apparently did not recognize them and they walked deliberately through the street to the pier, where they presented a card from Canada to the officer in command of the launch.

The American officer hurried them on board, the launch cast off, steamed quickly across the harbor to the Wheeling and put them on board.

Canada has protested against the arrest of Blum, and it is probable that he will shortly be released.

CHARLES C. GATES DIES IN STATION

Multi-Millionaire Succumbs to Heart Failure.

HIS WIFE WAS WITH HIM

Famous Stock Plunger and Sportsman Passed Away in Few Minutes at Cody, Wyo.

Cody, Wyo., Oct. 29.—Charles C. Gates, multi-millionaire, stock plunger, athlete, sportsman and son of the late John W. "Bet you a million" Gates, is dead. He was thirty-seven years old. Heart failure killed him. He collapsed in the railroad station at Cody and died a few minutes later. His wife, formerly Miss Florence Hopwood, of Minneapolis, was with him at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates left their home in Minneapolis some time ago for a trip west. They had no definite itinerary laid out—or if they did they kept it secret. They were just traveling about. The trip was made in the hope that Mr. Gates would regain his health, which had been failing for several months—although his condition was not thought to be serious.

The death of Mr. Gates takes one of the most picturesque figures in the world of finance, romance, sport and club life. His father was famous for his offer to "bet a million." The son, inheritor of $40,000,000, was in his own way no less famous. His raids on the stock market time and again were the talk of Wall street. And he always won. In Philadelphia, once he waved aside several hundred dollar bills, declaring them "junk." There is hardly a city in the United States or in the larger countries of Europe where Gates is not known. Between sorties on the stock market he would travel here and there, from New York to Philadelphia, or Washington, and then, a few weeks later, to Paris, London or Berlin—though he liked Paris best. It is said he gave away $1,000,000 a year in tips.

Gates was particularly noted for the love he bore his father, the late John W. Gates. The slightest illness of the latter was enough to make his son drop whatever he had in hand and rush to his side across the country, or if need be, across the ocean. A few years back he created a nation-wide sensation by speeding all about the country with his father in a private car, now trying a physician in this city, now one in another. Later when a cable announced that his father was ill in Paris, young Gates rushed to the dock in New York, boarded a boat just about to sail. Officers told him all the state rooms on the boat had been engaged, but Gates insisted that if necessary he would sleep on a couch in the salon.

"My father is ill. He has cabled me and I must go to him," he said doggedly. And he went. It was that illness, by the way, to which the elder Gates succumbed.

Charles Gates was twice married. His first wife divorced him about two years ago. The reasons for the divorce were never made public. A few months later, immediately following the death of his father, Gates admitted that he was engaged to marry Miss Florence Hopwood, of Minneapolis. The ceremony was performed Sept. 27, 1911, in Uniontown, Pa.

MAYORS DISCUSS NEW LAWS

Nine Executives Seek Light on Commission Government.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 29.—The mayors of nine third-class cities decided in the course of an all-day discussion of the provisions of the third class commission government law that control of the police force should be vested directly in the mayor as at present.

The opinion on this subject was unanimous and the mayors will communicate with other executives on the subject. The new law, when the mayors of small cities become members of a single-bodied council, becomes effective soon.

The bulk of the time was consumed in adopting a general policy to pursue in view of discrepancies in the law, such as the failure to provide for pay for councilmen between December and April, which, it was determined, the new council would have the right to provide for, and the filling of vacancies in city assessorships.

$25,000 Fire at Mount Pocono.
Stroudsburg, Pa., Oct. 29.—Mount Pocono, the summer resort which annually entertains thousands, was visited by a destructive fire, causing a loss of $25,000. The postoffice was destroyed. The building contained a souvenir store, summer garden, public library and other small stores.

Policemen Form Trade Union.
London, Oct. 29.—London's policemen have become incoordinated with the trades union germ and a provisional committee, drawn from their ranks, is busy enrolling members in what has been named the "Metropolitan Police Trade Union."

Shoots Man to Make Him Dance.
Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—In real wild and coolly west style, Matthew Taylor proven himself a "regular terror" by shooting Gus Prieb in the foot when he refused to do a "buck and wing" dance.

CONSUMPTION STILL THE GREAT DESTROYER

Can Be Prevented if Treated in Time—Remedy Described Below Proves Successful

While consumption is still proving one of the greatest destroyers of life it is no longer the terrifying disease it once was. This is largely due to the discovery of a natural remedy which has been proved by thousands of trials a reliable and effective preventive. It is called Emulsion of Scott's Emulsion. It is a food liver oil and other similar preparations were too nauseating to take, and had very bad effect on the digestive system, but an Emulsion has recently been marketed which has been known as Bear's Emulsion, and which is proving highly successful wherever introduced. This Emulsion soothes and heals the irritated lung tissues. It strengthens and tones the entire system and actually aids digestion and assimilation. To all those afflicted with weak lungs or who catch cold easily this Emulsion has proved a veritable boon, enabling them to quickly regain normal health and build strong vigorous bodies in a surprisingly short time.

Physicians and druggists, the country over, have quickly seized upon this remedy and are recommending it to all patients and inquiring with very beneficial results. It may be purchased at local drug stores at $1.00, the bottle or a full treatment of six bottles for $5.00 and the manufacturer, Dr. John D. Bear, chemist of Elkton, Va., guarantees beneficial results or will refund the purchase price. A valuable booklet of important information regarding the scientific treatment of consumption will be sent on request. Write Dr. John D. Bear, Elkton, Va.

Good Roofing Always Pays

You never quit paying for a poor roof. This year it needs painting, next year perhaps patching or other repairs. The year after you may be digging down for the price of a new roof.

It costs just as much to lay a cheap roof as it does to put down roofing that you can bank on for ten years. Why take chances? Why risk ten years of endless expense and needless bother when, at the same cost or less, you can get Reliance?

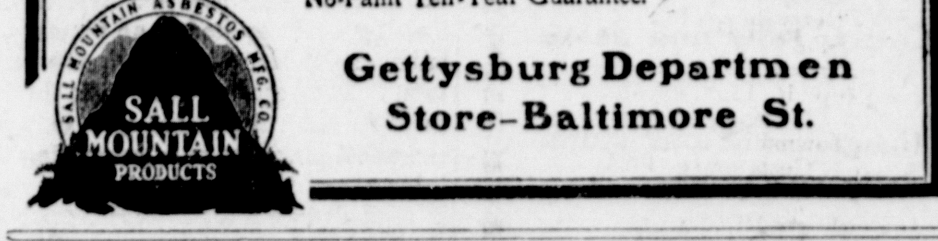

Reliance Roofing is the unquestioned choice of hard-to-please builders the country over. After ten years of service on every kind of building, Reliance Roofing stands today in a class by itself.

Guaranteed 10 Years Without Coating or Painting
RELiance ROOFING

Reliance Roofing is the only prepared roofing made that is guaranteed to give satisfactory service for ten years or more without requiring painting, coating or repainting. It's the one roof you can safely put on any building. Once laid, it needs no further attention. Reliance Roofing is all that a good roofing should be. It answers every sensible roofing want at a reasonable price.

You cannot afford to take chances—take RELiance. Satisfied users in every state of the union are adopting Reliance Roofing as standard. Before you spend a dollar on roofing, call or telephone and learn why the manufacturers of Reliance can afford to back it with a No-Coat-No-Paint Ten-Year Guarantee.

FORTY FANS HURT AT BASE BALL GAME

The Grandstand Collapses at Tulsa, Okla.

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 29.—Forty persons were injured at the base ball park here when the grandstand collapsed.

A good crowd had assembled to witness the game between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox, and the accident occurred just before the game was scheduled to start.

The crowd in the grand stand was moving around in an effort to see every point in the practice of the two teams. The movement of the spectators started the stand to sway, and in an instant it had collapsed.

Ambulances were summoned from Tulsa, which is about a mile and a half from the ball park, and the injured were removed to the Tulsa hospital. The game was started about a half hour late. The weather was very cold, and a severe northwest wind was blowing.

Attorneys Are Making Their Final Arguments.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 29.—All evidence in the trial of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with poisoning her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, has been put in and the fate of the woman will probably be entrusted to the jury late this afternoon.

William A. Morse occupied two hours with his argument for the defense. District Attorney Barker's plea for conviction is expected to be ended in time for Judge Alken to read his charge the jury before adjournment.

FOUR OFFICIALS IN READING HELD

City Clerk and Three Councilmen Accused of Graft.

CAUSES BIG POLITICAL STIR

They Are Charged With Conspiracy and Accepting Bribes to Vote For Fire Apparatus.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 29.—Three councilmen and a city clerk are under arrest on charges of conspiracy, made by the Philadelphia branch of a detective agency.

A police detective, Hallisey, of the Reading police department, is the nominal prosecutor.

The accused men are Councilmen John R. Lewis, hotelman; Andrew J. Flemming, machinist; James M. Cummings, president of select council and candidate for council under the commission plan at the November election, and L. S. Ramsey, city clerk. All gave bail before Alderman C. W. Yarnell for court or a hearing.

J. H. Sloan, from the Philadelphia detective agency, is the prime mover in the movement to "make a clean-up" at city hall and worked quietly at a hotel for several weeks. He posed as a promoter of fire apparatus and framed up his room at the hotel with dictaphones and other such appliances.

Several hundred dollars is involved in the "gift" which Sloan declares was accepted by the accused men. Sloan had arranged to sell the city a motor attachment for one of the Reading fire companies. He says he became intimate with the accused men and that one of the men accepted $25 in marked bills a short time before his arrest. This man insists that the money was accepted in the sense of a campaign contribution.

The accused men are prominent. Lewis and Ramsey are Republicans, while the others are Democrats. Mayor Stratton is reported to be back of the investigation. The friends of Cummings declare the arrests to be for political effect, intended to defeat Cummings at the election next Tuesday. The affair caused the greatest political sensation that Reading has ever known.

Cummings has been a power in councils for years, leading the Democratic party. He has been antagonistic to Mayor Stratton's administration, and considerable bitterness has existed for some time. "Politics," protested Cummings. "I have not been arrested, but was requested to enter $500 bail at my own convenience. That shows something."

Even more startling than the arrests on the bribery charge is some of the evidence which the detectives allege they have obtained through the dictaphone, which has been in frequent use. That an attempt was made to blackmail Mayor Stratton is also a part of the charge which the detectives make against City Clerk Ramsey as the prime mover.

E. O. Conkling, manager of the Philadelphia office of the Burns detective agency, told reporters that Ramsey had admitted an attempt to blackmail Mayor Stratton by having a woman go into the mayor's office and then be caught in an embarrassing situation. "This was framed by Ramsey, who said he was a friend of the mayor," said the manager of the detective agency, "but it was not carried out." The affair will likely have some effect upon the pending election. James Cummings is one of the candidates for council, but Lewis and Flemming were defeated for the nomination at the primaries in September. Cummings has long been the Democratic leader in council.

SINGER SEEKS DIVORCE

Schumann-Heink Declares She Won't Pay $100,000 Husband Demands.

Spoikane, Wash., Oct. 29.—That she is determined to get a divorce from her husband, William Rapp, Jr., of Chicago, without paying him a cent, was the declaration of Mme. Schumann-Heink here. Her husband, who is fourteen years her junior, demands $100,000 for release.

The singer showed recently that she still has money by sending a check for $3000 to one of her sons in Chicago, with which to purchase an automobile. Matrimonial difficulties started soon after Mme. Schumann-Heink took unto herself a third husband. She insisted, it is said, that Mr. Rapp should not talk to or associate with any one but her.

Indiana Women Bar Mrs. Pankhurst

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—The Woman's Franchise league has canceled its engagement with Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. The English suffragette will not lecture in Indianapolis. The reason is that while a certain sum had been agreed on for the lecture, Mrs. Pankhurst insisted on taking up the collection, and this was refused. The league would not consent to any money-making scheme.

Fetes Herself on Birthday

Chicago, Oct. 29.—An unidentified woman ordered orchids, roses and a special menu for one at a cafe, spent two hours at her lonely table and paid a check for $51, saying: "It's my birthday."

BRONCHITIS CONQUERED

Royersford, Pa., Man Tells How.

At this season of year with such sudden changes, it is so easy to take cold, and almost before one is aware there is inflammation in the bronchial tubes—a hard cough and unless checked in time chronic pulmonary troubles may result.

Townsend Young of Royersford, Pa., says: "A severe bronchial trouble contracted caused me much difficulty about breathing. My chest felt clogged up and there was considerable soreness. I tried different remedies without help; but I am glad to say that Vinol cured my bronchial trouble which had lasted for three months. My breathing is all right and the soreness entirely gone from my chest."

Vinol contains the curative, healing principles of fresh cod's livers (without oil) and tonic iron. We guarantee it to be delicious in taste and to satisfy you with its medicinal effects. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

P. S. If you have any skin trouble try Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

LADIES! DARKEN

YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandmā's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and No will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

"Every Woman Looks Well In FURS"

This is a great quotation from a great writer and the truth of it cannot be questioned.

There is nothing which adds so much to the attractiveness of a woman's appearance as a beautiful fur neck piece with muff to match.

Just now our stock of FURS is very complete of goods made up during the Summer season when furriers do their best work and use their best skins—in the very newest shapes in both MUFFS and NECK PIECES.

We are just now showing a very fine assortment of MUFFS and NECK PIECES in a new finish called ABORIA—beautiful black—lustrous—wear and color guaranteed—imitations—(good imitations too), of Black Fox, Lynx, &c.

ABORIA FUR is one-half the price of black fox, and quarter the price of black Lynx. (Black fox and black lynx cannot be guaranteed no matter what you pay for them.)

ABORIA GREY KITT FOX—made up in the same styles as the black at one-third the price of the genuine.

All these furs are lined with guaranteed linings.

IF YOU HAVE IN MIND BUYING A FUR COAT THIS SEASON COME TO US WE WILL HAVE THEM, COME HERE AND SAVE FROM $5.00 to $10.

Effective June 15, 1913.

"I don't get many Ralstons"

Because of their downright stubbornness in refusing to wear out, Ralstons give every man "value received."

Altho decidedly aristocratic in appearance, Ralstons are really economical shoes to wear. Their "up keep" is small. They make friends of every one except the cobblers.

Our personal guarantee of satisfaction goes with every pair. Fall styles, $4.00 to $6.00.
